

Article 10 - Permissible Uses

Section 16-10.1 Table of Permissible Uses. The Table of Permissible Uses herein should be read in close conjunction with the definitions of terms set forth in Section 16-2 and the other interpretative provisions set forth in this article.

Section 16-10.2 Use of the Designations Z and C in Table of Permissible Uses.

16-10.2.1 Subject to Section 16-10.3, when used in connection with a particular use in the Table of Permissible Uses herein, the letter "Z" means that the use is permissible in the indicated zone with a zoning permit issued by the administrator. The letter "C" means a conditional use permit must be obtained from the board of commissioners.

16-10.2.3 Subject to Section 16-10.3, use of the designation "ZC" means that a zoning permit must be obtained if the development is located on a lot of one acre or less while a conditional use permit, respectively, must be obtained for all developments on lots in excess of one acre.

16-10.2.4 Use of the designation Z and C for combination uses is explained in Section 16-10.10.

16-10.3 Board of Adjustment Jurisdiction Over Uses Otherwise Permissible With a Zoning Permit. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this article, whenever the Table of Permissible Uses (interpreted in the light of Section 16-10.2 and the other provisions of this article) provides that a use in a non-residential zone is permissible with a zoning permit, a conditional use permit shall be required if the administrator finds that the proposed use would have an extraordinary impact on neighboring properties or the general public. In making this determination, the administrator shall consider, among other factors, whether the use is proposed for an undeveloped or previously developed lot, whether the proposed use constitutes a change from one principal use classification to another, whether the use is proposed for a site that poses peculiar traffic or other hazards or difficulties, and whether the proposed use is substantially unique or is likely to have impacts that differ substantially from those presented by other uses that are permissible in the zoning district in question.

Section 16-10.4 Zoning Administrator Jurisdiction Over Uses Otherwise Permissible with CUP. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this article, whenever the Table of Permissible Uses (interpreted in the light of Section 16-10.2 and other provisions of this article) provides that a use in the CB, GB, or OI zoning district is permissible with conditional use permit, only a zoning permit shall be required instead if the administrator determines that the new use involves no more than a change from one business to another, that no new substantial construction is involved, and that the change in use would have a negligible adverse impact on neighboring property and the public health and safety.

Section 16-10.5 Permissible Uses and Specific Exclusions. The presumption established by this chapter is that most legitimate uses of land are permissible within at least one zoning district in the town's planning jurisdiction. Therefore, because the list of permissible uses set forth in herein, (Table of Permissible Uses) cannot be all-inclusive, those uses that are listed may be interpreted to include other uses that have similar impacts to the listed uses.

16-10.5.1 Section 16-10.1 (Table of Permissible Uses) shall not be interpreted to allow a use in one zoning district when the use in question is more closely related to another specified use that is permissible only in other zoning districts.

16-10.5.2 Without limiting the generality of the foregoing provisions, the following uses are specifically prohibited in all districts:

- a) Use of travel trailer as a residence.
- b) The use of any motor vehicle (as defined in Section 6-1 of the town code), parked on a lot, as a structure in which, out of which or from which any goods are sold or stored, any service is performed, or other business (as defined in Section 8-1 of the town code) is conducted, except that retail sales of food products and goods manufactured, created or produced by the seller shall not be prohibited by this subdivision. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, situations that exist on the effective date of this chapter that are in violation of this section shall not be regarded as lawful nonconforming situations thirty days after the effective date of this chapter.
- c) The installation, erection, or use of a wind energy system, wind turbines, and/or associated towers for wind energy conversion.

Section 16-10.6 Accessory Uses. The Table of Permissible Uses classifies different principal uses according to their different impacts. Whenever an activity (which may or may not be separately listed as a principal use in this table) is conducted in conjunction with another principal use and the former use (i) constitutes only an incidental or insubstantial part of the total activity that takes place on a lot, or (ii) is commonly associated with the principal use and integrally related to it, then the former use may be regarded as accessory to the principal use and may be carried on underneath the umbrella of the permit issued for the principal use. For example, a swimming pool/tennis court complex is customarily associated with and integrally related to a residential subdivision or multifamily development and would be regarded as accessory to such principal uses.

16-10.6.1 For purposes of interpreting section 16-10.4:

- a) A use may be regarded as incidental or insubstantial if it is incidental or insubstantial in and of itself or in relation to the principal use;
- b) To be "commonly associated" with a principal use it is not necessary for an accessory use to be connected with such principal use more times than not, but only that the association of such accessory use with such principal use takes place with sufficient frequency that there is common acceptance of their relatedness.

16-10.6.2 Without limiting the generality of section 16-10.6.1 the following activities are specifically regarded as accessory to residential principal uses so long as they satisfy the general criteria set forth above:

- a) Offices or studios within an enclosed building and used by an occupant of a residence located on the same lot as such building to carry on administrative or artistic activities of a commercial nature, so long as such activities do not fall within the definition of a home occupation.
- b) Hobbies or recreational activities of a non-commercial nature.
- c) The renting out of one or two rooms within a single family residence (use classification 1.110 or 1.120) (which one or two rooms do not themselves constitute a separate dwelling unit) to not more than two persons who are not part of the family that resides in the single family dwelling.
- d) Yard sales or garage sales, so long as such sales are not conducted on the same lot for more than three days (whether consecutive or not) during any 365 day period. Sales conducted in excess of these limitations shall be regarded as commercial activity that is unlawful in residential zones.

16-10.6.2.1 Beekeeping The keeping of bees as accessory use requires a zoning permit to establish initial compliance with the following requirements:

- a) No lot may contain more than four (4) hives.
- b) Hives shall be placed no closer than 10 feet from a property line and shall face the interior of the property. The Administrator may allow setback deviations on hive placement based on site topography.
- c) A water source must be provided.
- d) A bait hive must be placed 10-30 feet away and at least ten feet above the hives.

16-10.6.3 Without limiting the generality of section 16-10.6.1 the following activities shall not be regarded as accessory to a residential principal use and are prohibited in residential districts:

- a) Storage outside of a substantially enclosed structure of any motor vehicle that is neither licensed nor operational.

- b) Parking outside a substantially enclosed structure of more than four motor vehicles between the front building line of the principal building and the street on any lot used for purposes that fall within the following principal use classifications: 1.100, 1.200, 1.420, or 1.430.

Section 16-10.7 Permissible Uses Not Requiring Permits. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this chapter, no zoning or conditional use permit is necessary for the following uses:

- a) Streets.
- b) Electric power, telephone, telegraph, cable television, gas, water, and sewer lines, wires or pipes, together with supporting poles or structures, located within a public right of way.
- c) Neighborhood utility facilities located within a public right of way with the permission of the owner (state or town) of the right of way.

Section 16-10.8 Change in Use. A substantial change in use of property occurs whenever the essential character or nature of the activity conducted on a lot changes. This occurs whenever:

- a) The change involves a change from one principal use category to another.
- b) The original use is a combination use (29.000) or planned unit development (30.000), the relative proportion of space devoted to the individual principal uses that comprise the combination use or planned unit development use changes to such an extent that the parking requirements for the overall use are altered.
- c) If the original use is a combination use or planned unit development use, the mixture of types of individual principal uses that comprise the combination use or planned unit development use changes.
- d) If there is only one business or enterprise conducted on the lot (regardless of whether that business or enterprise consists of one individual principal use or a combination use), that business or enterprise moves out and a different type of enterprise moves in (even though the new business or enterprise may be classified under the same principal use or combination use category as the previous type of business). For example, if there is only one building on a lot and a florist shop that is the sole tenant of that building moves out and is replaced by a clothing store, that constitutes a change in use even though both tenants fall within principal use classification 2.110. However, if the florist shop were replaced by another florist shop, that would not constitute change in use since the type of business or enterprise would not have changed. Moreover, if the florist shop moved out of a rented space in a shopping center and was replaced by a clothing store, that would not constitute a change in use since there is more than one business on the lot and the essential character of the activity conducted on that lot (shopping center - combination use) has not changed.

16-10.8.1 A mere change in the status of property from unoccupied to occupied or vice-versa does not constitute a change in use. Whether a change in use occurs shall be determined by comparing the two active uses of the property without regard to any intervening period during which the property may have been unoccupied, unless the property has remained unoccupied for more than 180 consecutive days or has been abandoned.

16-10.8.2 A mere change in ownership of a business or enterprise or a change in the name shall not be regarded as a change in use.

Section 16-10.9 Manufacturing/Processing, Etc. Uses. The Board finds that the residential/resort character of the area within Blowing Rock's planning jurisdiction is incompatible with the development of such area for uses within the 4.000 classification of the Table of Permissible Uses (manufacturing, processing, etc.) except to the extent that such uses create none of the negative impacts often associated with such manufacturing/processing uses. Therefore, no 4.000 classification use within any zoning district may:

- a) Emit from a vent, stock, chimney, or combustion process any smoke that is visible to the naked eye.
- b) Generate noise that tends to have an annoying or disruptive effect upon uses located outside the immediate space occupied by the 4.000 use if that use is one of several on the lot, or uses located on adjacent lots.
- c) Generate any ground transmitted vibration that is perceptible to the human sense of touch measured at the outside boundary of the immediate space occupied by the enterprise generating the vibration if the enterprise is one of several located on a lot, or the lot line if the enterprise generating the vibration is the only enterprise located on a lot.
- d) Generate any odor that reaches the "odor threshold" measured at the outside boundary of the immediate space occupied by the enterprise generating the odor, or the lot line if the enterprise generating the odor is the only enterprise located on a lot. For purposes of this subdivision, the "odor threshold" is defined as the minimum concentration in air of a gas, vapor, or particulate matter that can be detected by the olfactory systems of a panel of healthy observers.
- e) Require for its operations a daily average of more than 200 gallons of water per employee.
- f) Create any electrical disturbance that adversely affects any operations or equipment other than those of the creator of such disturbance, or otherwise causes, creates, or contributes to the interference with electronic signals (including television and radio broadcasting transmissions) to the extent that the operation of any equipment not owned by the creator of such disturbance is adversely affected.

Section 16-10.10 Combination Uses. When a combination use comprises two or more principal uses that require different types of permits (zoning or conditional use), then the permit authorizing the combination use shall be:

- a) A conditional use permit if any of the principal uses combined requires a conditional use permit.

- b) A zoning permit in all other cases.

This is indicated in the Table of Permissible Uses by the designation "Z and C" in each of the columns adjacent to the 29.000 classification.

16-10.10.1 Subject to Section 16-10.10.2 when a combination use in an R-6 or R-10 zoning district consists of a residential subdivision and a multi-family development, the total density permissible on the lot shall be determined by having the developer indicate on the plans the portion of the total lot that will be developed for each purpose and calculating the density for each portion as if it were a separate lot.

16-10.10.2 Notwithstanding Section 16-12.2.2 whenever a combination use consists of a standard residential subdivision and a multi-family development, and the subdivided portion of the tract contains lots that exceed the minimum lot size requirements set forth in Section 16-181, but that do not exceed an average of 30,000 square feet, then the density of the portion of the tract developed for multi-family purposes may be increased beyond the permissible density calculated in accordance with Section 16-10.10.1. The increase in density shall be determined as follows:

- a) The minimum lot size requirement for the applicable zoning district shall be subtracted from each lot that exceeds the minimum lot size, and the remainders totaled.
- b) The sum derived from the calculation in subdivision (1) shall be divided by the minimum lot size requirement. Fractions shall be rounded to the nearest whole number.
- c) The product of the calculation in subdivision (2) shall yield the number of additional multi-family dwelling units that may be located within the portion of tract developed for multi-family purposes.

16-10.10.3 When a residential use is combined with a non-residential use in a business district, the lot must have at least the minimum square footage required for the residential use alone.

16-10.10.4 When two principal uses are combined, the total amount of parking required for the combination use shall be determined by cumulating the amount of parking required for each individual principal use according to the relative amount of space occupied by that use.

Section 16-10.11 More Specific Use Controls. Whenever a development could fall within more than one use classification in the Table of Permissible Uses, the classification that most closely and most specifically describes the development controls. For example, a small doctor's office or clinic clearly falls within the 3.110 classification (Office and service operations conducted entirely indoors and designed to attract customers or clients to the premises). However, classification 3.130, "Physicians and dentists offices and clinics occupying not more than 10,000 square feet of gross floor area" more specifically covers this use and therefore is controlling.

Section 16-10.12 Short-Term Rentals. The Board finds that short-term rentals (STRs) are an appropriate use given the residential/resort character of Blowing Rock's planning jurisdiction, provided that specific controls are in place to regulate parking, trash, noise, tenant safety, and other related effects thereby protecting neighborhood property values, and the health, safety, and the general welfare of Town citizens and visitors.

Short-term rentals are defined as the rental, lease, or use of an attached or detached residential dwelling unit for a duration that is less than 28 consecutive days. Rental agreements and contracts for less than 28 days are not permitted in zoning districts where short-term rentals are not allowed. The following standards shall apply to all short-term rentals with the Town's planning and zoning jurisdiction:

- a) A zoning permit must be initially obtained for each dwelling unit that is to be rented for a period of less than 28 days. The zoning permit for short-term rental must be renewed annually through the Planning and Inspections office by paying any required fee and requesting an inspection. The permit is not valid until a satisfactory inspection is completed.
- b) A local contact person or management company must be listed and available to respond to complaints or emergencies within two (2) hours.
- c) Sufficient off-street parking must be provided for each bedroom to be rented. The parking space must meet the minimum dimensional requirements in Section 16-20.6. Short-term rental units that exist on July 1, 2018 are grandfathered with respect to parking, but each bedroom added after this date requires an additional parking space.
- d) Adequate trash and recycling containers must be provided. If collection containers are kept in an enclosure bin, the bin must meet minimum design standards defined in the Town Code (ex. Placed within 6 to 12 feet of the edge of the street, opaque screening at least four feet high, etc.).
- e) The dwelling unit must be equipped with operable smoke detectors and carbon monoxide detectors consistent with the NC Building Code.
- f) The 911 address must be posted on the front of the house or dwelling unit with 3.5-inch reflective numbers (6-inch reflective number if commercial or multi-family) or on the property according to Section 7-17 of the Town Code. The 911 address must be clearly posted on the interior of the dwelling unit to notify tenants in case of emergency.

- g) Permits may be revoked upon repeated substantiated complaints resulting in violations of the Town Code related to noise, trash, pets, parking, etc. If the Town receives three (3) complaints within one (1) year that lead to violations of the Town Code, the permit may be revoked for a period of one (1) year.

16-10.12.1 In addition to those areas zoned to allow short-term rentals (CB, TC, GB, OI), there are other areas where short-term rentals are permissible including Chetola Resort and Royals Oaks Condominiums (Overlay District). There are other properties that were previously operating short-term rentals or had permitted vested rights through Watauga or Caldwell County prior to being annexed or added to the Extraterritorial Jurisdiction. These properties have a legal nonconforming status that provides the opportunity for short-term rental. Each property owner that applies for a zoning permit for short-term rental use in areas not permitted by right or listed herein must provide historical documentation that the nonconformity has been legally obtained or a vested right has been legally established.
